Soft Buns - One pound and a quarter of flour, one pound of butter, one pound of pulverized loaf sugar, six eggs, and nutmegs.

6 Corn bread - Beat two eggs very lightly, and mix them with one pt of sour milk; add a teaspoonful of soda, and stir in one pint of corn meal and one tablespoonful of melted butter. Beat it well, and bake in a quick oven.

Queen of Puddings - One pint of nice fine bread crumbs, one quart of milk, one cup of sugar, the yolks of four eggs beaten, the grated rind of a lemon, a piece of butter the size of an egg. Bake until done, but not watery. Whip the whites of the eggs stiff, beat in a teaspoonful of sugar in which has been strained the juice of a lemon, spread over the pudding a layer of jelly, pour the whites of the eggs over this; replace in the oven; bake slightly; to be eaten cold, with cream, if preferred. Decidedly the best of all puddings something new.

Delicate Cake - One coffee cup of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter (not melted), one teaspoon of sweet milk, the whites of two eggs (or one whole egg, if you do not want it very delicate), two coffee cups of flour, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar, half teaspoonful of soda.

Cookies - One cup of sugar, half cup of butter, half cup of water, two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar, one of soda, and a little nutmeg.

Ginger Sponge Cake - One cup of molasses, one cup of butter, two cups of sugar, four eggs, three cups of flour, one cup of milk, soda, and ginger.

Common Crullers - Mix well together half a pint of sour milk, or buttermilk, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, one teaspoonful of butter, and three eggs well beaten; add to this a teaspoonful of saleratus dissolved in hot water, a teaspoonful of salt, half a nutmeg, grated, and a teaspoonful of powdered cinnamon; sift in flour enough to make a smooth dough. roll it out not quite a quarter of an inch thick, cut in strips and twist. Fry them in boiling lard.

Ginger Cookies - One cup of sugar, one of butter, one of molasses, one tablespoonful of ginger, one of cinnamon, and two teaspoonfuls of saleratus, dissolved in three tablespoonfuls of hot water. Bake quickly.

Tongue Toast - Take cold tongue that has been well boiled, mince it ~~fine~~, mix it with cream, or a little milk, if there is no cream at hand; add the beaten yolk of an egg and give it a simmer over the fire. Toast nicely some thin slices of stale bread, and having buttered them, lay them in a flat dish that has been heated before the fire; then cover each slice with the tongue mixture, which should be kept quite hot, and serve up immediately.

- Honey Cake — One cup of sugar, one cup of rich sour cream, one egg, half a teaspoonful of soda, two cups of flour, flavor to the taste, Bake half an hour.
- Black Cake — One cup sugar, 3 eggs, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup butter, 3 cups flour (over teaspoon soda and cloves for spice, Bake in rather flat-tins in a quick oven.

Let them lie in cold water till the syrup is ready, to which add the juice of a lemon, and the peel cut very fine. Stew the apples in the syrup till quite done. Quarters of oranges may be boiled in the same syrup instead of apples.
- Nottingham Pudding — 1 pint flour,  $1\frac{1}{2}$  cups of milk, 1 cup of cream, 4 eggs, and 1 teaspoonful of salt. Prepare six cored apples, then make the batter smooth and pour over them: if the cream is sour a very small teaspoon of saleratus will be required. Let it bake 1 hour, & dressing of sweetened cream, or a liquid sauce well seasoned, is suitable.
- Buffles, or Tarts. — Take an egg and 2 tablespoonfuls of white sugar, mix hard with flour, roll very thin and cut out round, with notched edges, the size you wish then boil in lard, lay jelly or jam on the center.
- Cheap Sponge Cake — Take 1 egg, 1 cup of sugar, 1 cup of water or milk 2 cups flour 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, and 1 of soda.
- Economy Cookies — 1 cup sugar, 1 cup thick sour cream, 1 teaspoonful of soda, season to taste, Mix stiff, roll thin, bake quick, and eat when you please.
- Drop Cakes — 1 quart of flour, 2 eggs,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of butter,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of sugar, 1 teaspoon of soda, 2 teaspoons of cream tartar. Stir butter and <sup>sugar</sup> eggs together, add the eggs, put the cream tartar in the flour, dissolve the soda in a little milk, pour in milk enough to make a stiff pound cake. Put in the soda the last thing. Bake in or muffin rings set on a tin sheet.
- Pound Cake — 1 pound sugar, 1 of butter, 1 of flour, and the whites of 12 eggs, beaten to a froth. Flavor with the essence of lemon. Bake in a quick oven, This quantity will make a good 2 good sized cakes, baked in six quart pans.

On cooling, put the fruit into jars, and pour the syrup over it, and add a few slices of lemon to each jar, and you will have something to please the taste of the most fastidious.

Jam of Green Gages— Put ripe green gages into a kettle, with very little water, and let them stew until soft, then rub them through a sieve, and to every pint of pulp put a pound of white sugar powdered fine then put it in a preserving kettle over the fire, stir it until the whole is of the consistence of a jelly, then take it off, put the marmalade in small jars or tumblers, and cover as directed for jelly. Any sort of plums may be done in this manner.

Doughnuts — Take a pound of flour, one quarter pound of butter, three quarters pound of brown sugar, one nutmeg grated, and a tea spoon of ground cinnamon; mix these well together then add a table spoonful of bakers yeast and as much warm milk with a bit of carbonate of potash about the size of a pea dissolved in it as will make the whole into a smooth dough; knead it for a few minutes cover it and set it in a warm place to rise until it is light then roll it out to one quarter inch thickness, and cut it into small squares or diamonds ready for cooking. Fry in lard.
